

MONDAY NOVEMBER 21

PICK OF THE DAY

Britain's Greatest Codebreaker Channel 4, 9pm
Despite being a visionary thinker who helped ensure Allied victory in the Second World War without ever picking up a weapon, Alan Turing died a convicted criminal after falling foul of the establishment he once served. Famed for cracking the Germans' Enigma machine, Turing later became the architect of the digital age, but this man of secrets led a covert life, which is artfully explored in this dramatised documentary starring Henry Goodman and Ed Stoppard (above). It re-enacts the sessions Turing spent with a psychiatrist, as the cryptographer tried to understand his own troubled mind. ★★★★★

The Boarding School Bomber BBC3, 9pm
On the first anniversary of the 7/7 London bombings, middle-class public schoolboy Andrew Ibrahim became a Muslim and changed his name to Isa. But his conversion to Islam had a sinister end – in 2008, CCTV recorded his 'hostile reconnaissance' of a Bristol shopping centre, where he was planning a suicide bombing, fuelled by visits to extremist websites. In this docu-drama (starring Adam Deacon, right), interviews with his family and friends are interwoven with a dramatic retelling of his life. ★★★★★

The Lost Orphan: Mirela's Story Channel 5, 10pm
Twelve years ago TV presenter Natalie Pinkham spent a month working in a Romanian orphanage. Although she had been warned not to become attached to any one child, she couldn't help falling for three-year-old Mirela's sweet smile. Now, Pinkham wants to find out what happened to the girl whose photograph she has kept, but returning to Romania proves to be the most difficult journey of her life... ★★★★★

We Need To Talk About Dad Channel 4, 10.20pm
Six years ago, devoted father and husband Nick Johnson bludgeoned his wife, Nicky, with an axe-handle and left her for dead, an attack witnessed only by the couple's then-17-year-old son Henry. Nick now lives in Germany but, astonishingly, the family remain close and conspire to shield youngest son Felix, who was ten at the time, from the truth. This heartbreaking film is Henry's attempt to make sense of the inexplicable event that changed everything for his family. ★★★★★

FAMILY PICK OF THE DAY

Series three of the singing show sees our fluorescent friends – Panzee, Zak, Drum and Tang (right, with the Moaning Stones) – reunite for more fun instruction in world music, in a new, shorter format. Today they clash cymbals in a thunder-and-lightning song while, later in the week, they throw some disco shapes and get handy with a French horn.
